The Carmel Unified School District Board members will recommend George V. Yates to County School Superintendent Gladys Stone for appointment to the Carmel School Board to fill out the year remaining of the term of Dr. Roderick Clayton. Dr. Clayton will resign at the next board meeting, since he is leaving on June 1 for 15 months' research in biochemistry at Oxford and in Norway.

Mr. Yates, an investment broker, moved here in 1949 from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he was born and attended elementary and high school. He came to California to attend Stanford, graduating in 1938. Until the war, he was associated with an investment firm in New York and Boston. Entering the army as a private in an armored division, he served in the European theater and was discharged with rank of major. While overseas he met the Pennsylvania girl who was to become his wife, Betty Jane, in a USO camp show in Germany. They were married in Los Angeles where his firm had sent him after his discharge from the army. He returned to Lincoln, engaged in the investment business for a year and a half, and decided to make his permanent home in Carmel.

Mr. Yates will be president of Carmel Rotary after July 1, is vice president of Carmel Business Association and is a member of the new hospital committee. He was a board member and vice president of Community Chest for several years, also a board member of Carmel Unincorporated.

He and Betty Jane, and their son, Van, 9, have their home at Fourth and Hatton Road. For relaxation, he sails his 18-foot sloop, and Betty Jane interests herself in the Children's Theatre activities of the Wharf Theater.

WIZARD OF OZ

The Wizard of Oz will be given for Carmel children on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium by the Peninsula League for Community Service and the Wharf Players. There is no charge for admission.

Plan Board Dumps Orange Zone, Parking, Keeps Mall In Livingston Master Plan

Cinderella Shop, Cabbages And Kings To Be Demolished

Routine business kept the Carmel Planning Commission hard at work for over an hour yesterday afternoon. They granted division of land into new building sites to A. McKeown at Dolores and Thirteenth Streets and Raymond Narvaez in the canyon at the end of Eleventh Street. M. S. Hughes was given a variance for a carport on Monte Verde Street North of Third Avenue; Mrs. R. Swanston was allowed an apartment without off-street parking on Sixth Street.

Building permits were granted to Robert Stanton for a store, offices and hotel addition to Normandy Inn; Mrs. Swanston for an apartment, offices and store building fronting on Sixth Street backing the Cinderella Shop and Cabbages and Kings on Ocean Ave. Mrs. Swanston eventually intends to remove the last two stores and extend her Sixth Street building through to Ocean. Ken Brown may add two new units to the Village Inn and J. O. Handley enlarge his yard office.

A weary Carmel Planning Commission yesterday afternoon adopted the Lawrence Livingston, Jr. Master Plan for Carmel with eight changes in spite of a last minute plea by Gordon Campbell that the Plan be further altered to conform with the wishes of the large number of citizens opposing the Plan at public hearings.

"It's time for another body to consider the Plan," said Commissioner Herbert Blanks, stating also that the adoption of the Plan by the Commission was "not final action as far as the law is concerned."

Council Adopts New License Ord. Mayor Votes No

With two councilmen admitting that it was far from ideal, and a third voting no, the Carmel City Council (four present) adopted the revised business license ordinance Tuesday night, in a special meeting following the student council meeting.

Mayor Horace D. Lyon voted against the ordinance because he objected to the scale of rates on gross sales. "The diminishing rate as the income increases penalizes smaller business and favors big business. It does not take into account that the bigger the business, the greater problems it creates for the city." He also protested, "the inequity of a $5.00 per room tax for motels in the business district and a $5.00 per person, which is

The Commission then voted 5-1 to adopt the Plan and send it to the City Council on June 5. Chairman George Wilcox gave the nay vote as he did not approve elimination of the orange zone, "as it now exists."

Changes to the Plan are as follows:

1. Any definite establishment of transitional (orange) zones or uses be excluded.
2. The access road from Highway 1 to the River beach, and parking facilities on the south side of the Carmel River lagoon, be excluded.
3. The proposed park in the canyon opposite the Mission running up into the Eighty Acres not be named Junipero Serra Park and there be no access road to this park by Viscaino Street.
4. No four lane access road to Carmel Mission along Rio Road from the proposed freeway is to be allowed.
5. Highway 1 is not to be closed from Carpenter Street to Valley Way.
6. Junipero Street to be developed as a major four lane thoroughfare only as far as Eighth Street.
7. North and South traffic may cross the Ocean Avenue pedestrian Mall which will be closed to East and West traffic from Junipero Street to Monte Verde Street.
8. All provisions for precise establishment of off-street parking in the business districts be eliminated.

Gordon Campbell representing Fred Leidig and also speaking for himself opposed the changed Plan and urged further changes before it was sent to the council. Closing Ocean Avenue to East-West traffic for a pedestrian Mall "promoted tourism" he felt, as did providing better access routes to Carmel.

"Let tourists get here the best way they can," said Campbell, opposing the "ill advised" four lane development of Junipero Street into town along Pico and Camino Del Monte Streets, thus providing better access to Carmel from Highway 1.

The entire plan, even though changed, still "was for the benefit of business interests, not for the residents," he stated.

"The Plan is not enhancing or preserving Carmel but revolutionizing it. Changing Ocean Avenue changes the atmosphere of Carmel."

Campbell also was against even a vestige of suggestion of a buffer zone remaining in the residential zone. He said that the orange zone in the Master Plan absorbed some residential areas. The Citizens' Committee in their concept of a

Realtors, Motelmén Ask School Board To Delay Action On J.C. District

Carmel Board of Realtors, in a special meeting Wednesday noon, voted unanimously to ask the Carmel Unified School District Board to postpone action toward including the Carmel Unified School District in a peninsula junior college district, "until further study can be made from the financial end as to its effect on the taxpayer, and until more could be known about the plans of the University of California for a branch college in this locality. Also, we feel that first consideration should be given to completing the school facilities needed for our children in the Carmel School District."

The Board of Directors of the Carmel-by-the-Sea Motelmén's Association addressed a similar letter to the school board following a meeting of the association Wednesday night.

The Carmel School Board will meet Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock at the high school. At least two of the members will urge that they pass a resolution at that time asking the state department of education to set up a peninsula wide junior college district made up of the Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove High School Districts, Pacific Grove and Carmel to buy the existing Monterey Junior College plant and land from the Monterey High School District.

The county school superintendent will then call an election for the formation of the district. Carmel School District voters will not have a chance because the issue will be decided by a simple majority of the entire peninsula vote. In any such election, the decision lies with Monterey.

Even though the P.T.A. and the League of Women Voters favor

PG FRESHMAN THROWS NO-HITTER AT PADRES

Archie Stewart, a transfer student from the plains of Kansas, found the Carmel High varsity baseball team easy pickings Tuesday afternoon as he hurled Pacific Grove to near-perfect shutout win over the Padres. The poised and confident control artist didn't give up a semblance of a basehit and allowed only four Padres to find their way to first base. Pinpoint control and a cracking curveball served to shackle the Carmel swingers who were helpless against the brilliant lefthander.

The Breakers picked up two runs in the third inning when Tim O'Shea, Padre pitcher, hit a wild streak and filled the bases on three consecutive walks. At this point, an attempted pickoff play at first base went awry and the ball ended up in deep right field, allowing two runs to cross the plate. Pacific Grove scored a solo in the fifth and sixth frames to make the final count, 4 to 0.

Tim O'Shea and Parker Pollock divided the hurling chores for the Padres and did a creditable job of holding the hard-hitting Breakers in check. O'Shea allowed only one hit over the five inning route while Pollock gave up two blows, one a booming home run by Joe Stevenson.

CLOSE RACE IN CARMEL LITTLE LEAGUE

George Baxter's Pilot Market and Jack Miller's San Carlos Agency teams continue to pace the Carmel Little League play but all the teams are closely bunched and ready to jump to the top spot. Rain washed out Monday night's tilt between the Sport Shop and Boys Town but league action resumed Tuesday evening with the Pilot Market aggregation clipping San Carlos to earn a tie for first place. David Cox pitched the win for Pilot, limiting the Agency sluggers to four hits while striking out seven. Lyndon Mahrt was the leading hitter for San Carlos, lashing out a double and single in three trips to the plate. While Cox was dishing out four hits to San Carlos the Pilot swingers combed Danny Holman for 11 safeties, including 3 doubles. Big bat wielders for the Market nine were Stan Cummings, 3 for 3, David Cox, 3 for 3, and Tim Mosolf, 2 for 3.

Tonight's Little League fare matches Boys Town with San Carlos Agency in a crucial tilt which could see Boys Town move right up with the league leaders. Monday night's action finds San Carlos coming back again to tangle with Lew McCreery's Sport Shop crew. Boys Town meets Pilot Market Tuesday night in the final game of the first half.

Jupiter Pluvius washed out Saturday's farm team action but the rookies are set for play this Saturday with Richardson-Aitken meeting Wilder and Jones and Nikko's tangling with Dr. Pepper.

CARMEL MERCHANTS IN PACIFIC GROVE SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Coaches Don Sands and Paul Artellan have entered the ambitious Carmel Merchants softball team in the A-division of the Pacific Grove Softball League and will swing into action for the first time next Monday evening at 8:30, against the Seaside Merchants for their league debut in the popular recreation circuit. The Carmel nine is rated near the top in the A-division but will receive stiff competition from the Rasmussen-Moody aggregation which is always right near the top.

KING CITY NINE AT CARMEL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Mike McCormack's King City Mustangs come to Bardarson Field this Friday afternoon to cross bats with the Carmel Padres in the final league game of the current season. Neither the Mustangs nor Padres have burned up the league in this season's play and Friday's joust could be billed as a battle for the cellar. King City clipped Carmel, 8 to 5, in the first meeting this year and the odds on this one figure about 8 to 5.

Tim O'Shea, Carmel's erratic lefthander, will toe the slab for the Padres and off his best effort would stand a good chance of setting down the Mustangs. Wildness has plagued the hard-trying junior all season, keeping him in hot water and making his teammates jittery. Joe Mason will handle the catching duties with Charley Dawson, Andy Gray, Ronnie Faia, and Walter Helm rounding out the infield. Dennis Peavey, Dale Dawson, and Mal Burdis will patrol the outfield for the red and gray nine.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Eleventh Season of The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra Concerts has ended in triumph—not only for the third year of Gregory Millar's direction and the orchestra personnel but for accomplishment of three local solo artists—Jean Canada, Jocelyn Perry and Wade Parks, whose performances again demonstrated the fact of musicians living here who can hold their own anywhere.

While training a group with too few rehearsals and often changed personnel, Mr. Millar has been able to project performances of old and new works that have carried over convincingly, and he has made them intriguing where a conductor of less vision and dominance would not have succeeded. The development to date of the orchestra is phenomenal for civic groups, and those who have been faithful in its support can feel gratified with this season's result and anticipate those of the future.

The concert opened with the Manfredini Concerto for two trumpets. This rarely played work, with soloists Edward Haug and Terry McCormack, made a stirring start that was strongly applauded. Mr. Millar then announced a change in order of the program and proceeded with the Mahler Kinder Totenlieder sung by Jean Canada, one of the local winners of last year's symphony contest, whose lovely vocal utterance delivered in broad and well-balanced tones was a joy to listen to in the sympathetic song cycle, a difficult work, managed with distinction by both singer and orchestra.

Jocelyn Perry's high coloratura gave the Mozart aria from Seraglio, and the fireworks of Verdi's Ah fors e lui from Traviata. Her temperament and agility are remarkable, and the voice pours forth easily though somewhat narrowed at the top, where it could be rounded, a mere matter of further development and less heady centering. Miss Perry was a contest winner, and received a spontaneous ovation, shared by the orchestra, from which Mr. Millar had induced a brilliant accompaniment led by Concert Master Mazzi.

The Four Greek Dances, premiere of which Mr. Millar had just given in San Francisco with The Little Symphony, were unusual and stirring in Skalkottas' individual expression, and deserve repetition.

The Brahms E minor Symphony was tackled with unreserved enthusiasm. All four movements were completely realistic with artistically rounded out lighter moments. All in all the concert was outstanding.

The Robert Louis Stevenson School at Pebble Beach on last Sunday night presented a treat in Dr. Alice Ehlers, the famous harpsichordist, in a charming program of the Baroque period. Ehlers has several times been soloist in the Bach Festival.

The second performance of the Opera Work Shop produced by Monterey Peninsula College presented a number of excerpts from various operas. Gert Muser and Harvey Marshall are doing a service for these young MPC singers, who, however, should not neglect voice production, as such, since opera roles are liable to put demands on them that technical knowledge alone will conquer, and strain is not the answer for growth. All told, however, the opera workshop this time showed a big advance on that of last year, for which congratulations are due director Gert Muser and Harvey Marshall.

Land Use Limit Eased In C-1, C-2

The ordinance amendment controlling dwelling construction and setbacks in C-1 and C-2 zones reappeared at the Planning Commission meeting yesterday afternoon a little more changed, allowing flexibility of dwelling unit sizes and off street parking requirements. It goes to the City Council on June 5 and the council will hold a public hearing on the amendment sometime in the future before making it law.

The amendment now provides that a single dwelling unit shall be permitted per building site under one ownership, with no definite ratio of lot size to dwelling unit. All multiple dwelling construction must meet ordinance demands that each dwelling unit shall not exceed 600 square feet per 1,000 square feet of land; 400 square feet of each 1,000 square feet demanded site being open landscaping and space for one off-street parking space per unit, unless the Planning Commission grants a variance in each case.

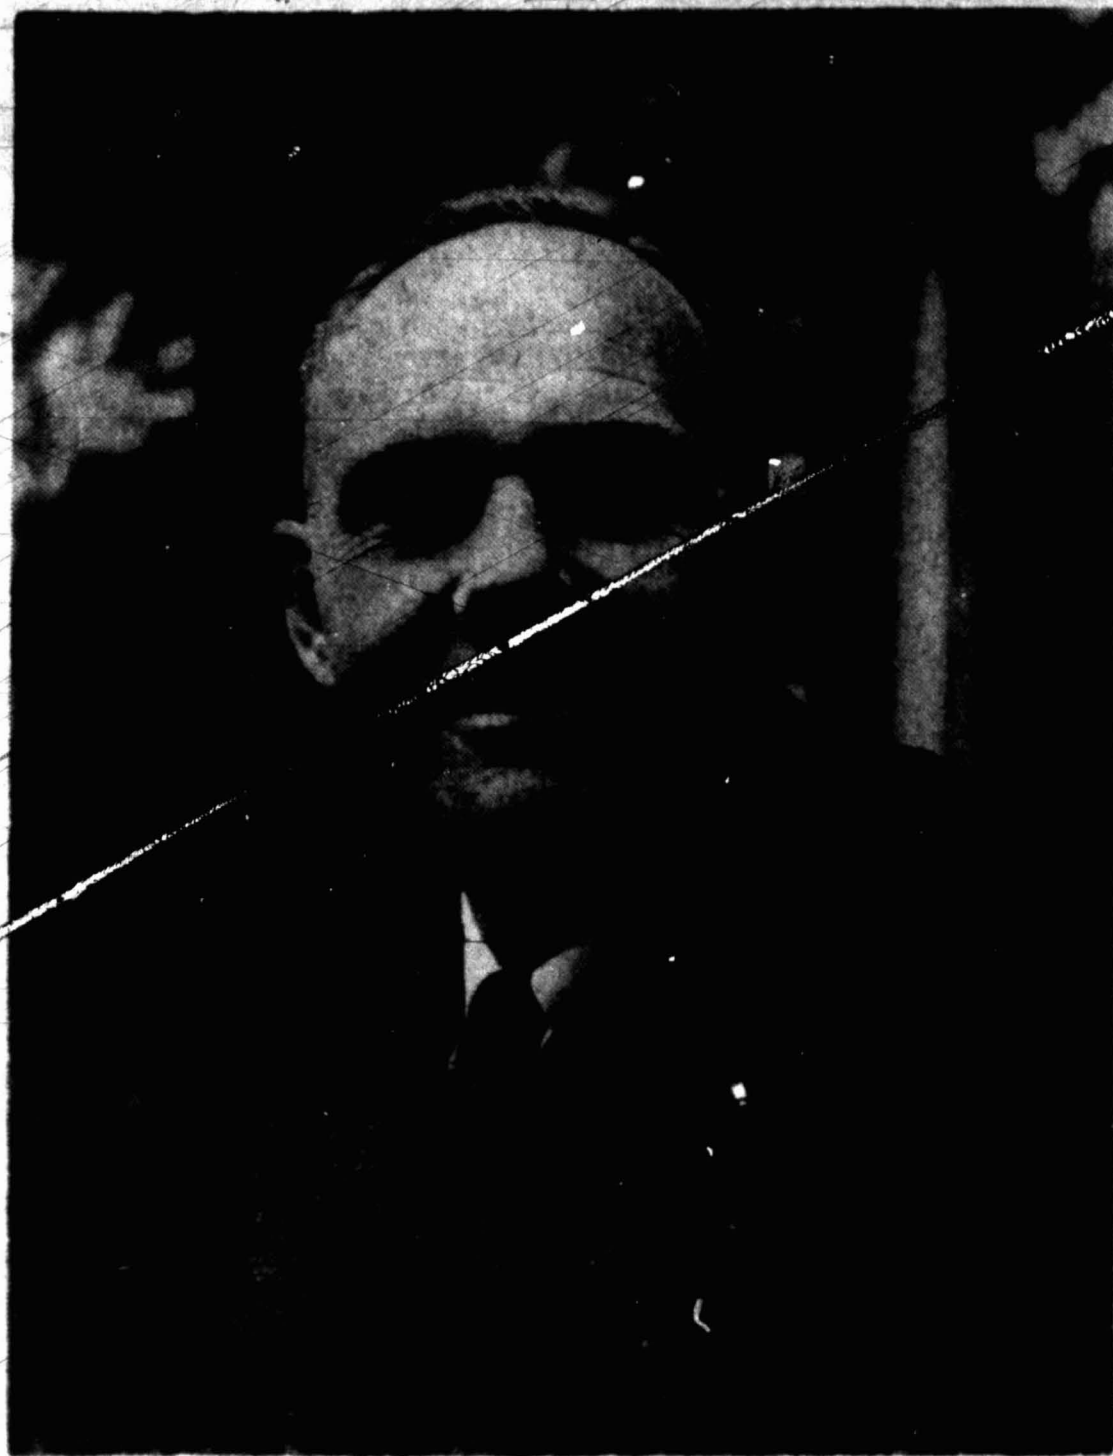

The variances permitted for multiple dwellings are that the size of dwelling unit and site requirements may be made ten per cent less than the demanded 600-1,000 square feet ratio under certain conditions; and that the 1-1 parking ratio per unit may be varied as much as two spaces or fifteen per cent of the required parking spaces.

All multiple dwelling will be a conditional use in both business zones.

Front setbacks of two and a half feet in both districts are still demanded in the ordinance, with staggered setbacks permitted.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
O. Edward Graves
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

"PORK BARREL" LEGISLATION

Because of the widespread public interest in President Eisenhower's budget I am reprinting in this week's column a release of the Wildlife Management Institute, Washington, D. C., in its Outdoor News Bulletin of April 26. Conservationists have a particular interest in it at the present time because of their opposition to the Bruce's Eddy Dam in the Clearwater River Basin of Idaho, a Corps of Engineers' project already authorized by the Senate but still to be acted on by the House. The Bulletin follows:

"One of the nation's largest and most influential agricultural groups has added its voice to the mounting public demand for discontinuance of the present system of 'omnibus' authorization and appropriation of millions of dollars of public funds each year for water projects of the Corps of Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation. In a letter to the members of the House Public Works Committee, President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation has urged that the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors bill, S. 497, presently before that Committee, 'not be enacted into law'.

"Many groups have been objecting to the log-rolling practice of lumping all authorizations and appropriations for all Federal projects into single and massive Omnibus bills. Known with good reason as a 'pork barrel', the Omnibus bills are an odd mixture of projects. Many have not had adequate review by the Federal construction agency, and others either are opposed by the Administration or have not been presented with all the accompanying reports that usually are and should be required.

"A final objection to the Omnibus-type of authorization is that the same Federal agencies that will be constructing and operating the projects, when authorized, are the ones that recommend them to the Congress. President Eisenhower vetoed last year's Omnibus bill because it would have authorized nearly 40 projects that were either opposed by the Administration or upon which complete reports had not been transmitted to Congress. Of the 180 projects contemplated in S. 497, which already has Senate approval, there are 29 projects which either are unacceptable to the Administration or have been included by the Senate despite a number of conspicuous irregularities.

"One project in S. 497 to which conservationists across the country have been objecting is the Bruce's Eddy dam on the North Fork of the Clearwater River in Idaho. This controversial project was given provisional authorization by the Senate even though studies on the impact of the impoundment on the area's fish, game, and recreational resources have not been completed.

"The Farm Bureau advised the House Public Works Committee that about $40 billion will be required to complete construction on Corps of Engineers' projects already authorized. This backlog would be swelled by another $7 billion by the enactment of S. 497.

"In adding its voice to the dissatisfaction with S. 497, the Farm Bureau, like the many other interested groups and individuals, is finding that public sentiment is switching from opposition to individual projects in S. 497 to widespread support for the idea that S. 497 be shelved by the House Public Works Committee and that the entire system of project authorization be revamped so that the Congress assumes its rightful responsibilities in controlling Federal water development activities."

The Time Has Come .

by Kippy Stuart

In Science Digest magazine there is an article titled: "For good or ill, the dandelion has said 'Good-bye to sex!'" Now, if any one would skip such an intriguing title, it isn't I, and as I read deeper and deeper into this scientific treatise, the more surprised I became. Nothing looks more innocent than a dandelion, and there is no growing gadget as pernicious as this pesky plant. Who cares what is happening to this troublesome weed? If only we could abolish it from our lawns, that would satisfy today's gardener.

But oh no, it seems that the dandelion is one of Nature's Oldest creations. According to science, the dandelion is one of the "highest" forms of all plant life. As a race, dandelions are prospering and inheriting the earth with terrifying efficiency. They suggest what life may be coming to, instead of what it came from. Voltax (whoever he or it is) invented sex. Sex proved so useful that for millions of years it accomplished every biological advance. The egg and the sperm are standard equipment throughout the vegetable kingdom. Love, once, was the mother of all living things. Sex created love in man and flowers in plants.

Science Digest, (with tongue in cheek), announces; "But love is not the mother of dandelions!" That is only the beginning of all the sinister things which can be said against them. But also, it is stated that "Love was the mother of dandelion's ancestors." What then has happened? Maybe Nature has gone "modern" and is having her little experiment. Sexuality made dandelions what they are, and now evolution has turned about and headed toward the dim past, depriving this plant of its natural heritage.

Voltax, (again) reminds us how quietly so tremendous a thing as sex slipped into the universe. Both the dandelion and the ant warn us how quietly it may slip out again. One thing, in the gardener's favor, is that with the abolishment of fertilization the dandelion may, in time, cease to flower.

I should say that this last statement is the only one value to gardeners. Who cares what the poor little dandelion is up against? The day that those abominable lacy parachutes that scatter seeds to the wind are a thing of the past, we can lay down our tools and shout. "Hurrah for our side! No longer are there lady and gentlemen dandelions!"

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Guarding the safety of you and your family is a big part of any telephone man's job. That's why we each take a course in "defensive driving." It teaches us ways to avoid accidents—to anticipate what other drivers or pedestrians may do. It really works too. Our drivers cover millions of miles every year and chalk up one of the best safety records in the U.S. It pays off for us and our families, and for you too, for it helps make driving safer for everyone.

A reserve of power guards your phone service—day in and day out. Happily, storms and other emergencies don't come along often. But we keep ready anyway. Special standby generators run by gasoline or diesel engines have been provided in each telephone central office. If needed, they can take over to supply necessary power. This is one of the many ways we work to provide telephone service you can count on.

DID YOU KNOW

That your Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company of Monterey have movies for free, for our schools, civic groups, and business organizations? Yes, we have many different and wonderfully educational films for the young as well as the old. These films are produced and directed by our country's greatest directors.

For a large part they are produced for children of all school ages. Many historical and geographical events will take place right before your very eyes. And if requested, we will be glad to send one of our representatives to help and give demonstrations on new and truly unique devices that the telephone company has to offer to the public.

Just call your local Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company business office for further information and complete listings of the films that are available.

Chapel Singers To Present Faure's Requiem Sunday

The Chapel Singers of the Church of the Wayfarer will present Faure's Requiem on Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock, as a part of the program for the dedication of the Memorial Pipe Organ. The choral group will be under the direction of John W. Farr with Connell K. Carruth at the organ.

This musical work was written by the French composer in memory of his father and first performed at the Madeleine in Paris in 1888. While it is frequently performed in France, it is not as well known in the United States. It opens with the Introit and Kyrie, Grant Them Rest Eternal, and follows with O Lord Our God, to be sung by John W. Farr, baritone. The choir sings the Sanctus and then Zeala Wright, soprano, will be heard in Blessed Jesus, followed by the Agnus Dei and a solo by David Schoenbrod, baritone, Deliver Me. The concluding choral number is In Paradise.

Members of the choir include: sopranos, Ruth Kightly, Marjorie Humason, Corliss Myers, Zeala Wright; altos, Roxanna Blanks, Kay Carter, Mary Crawford, Dorotha Gray, Carol Marsh, and Marjory Marsh; tenors, Howard G. Carter, Frank D. Faulkner, Herbert L. Myers; baritones, Gareth Busher, George Blanks, Herbert B. Blanks, Rudd Crawford, Jr., David Schoenbrod, and C. L. Saunders.

The service of dedication will be conducted by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray and will include the Act of Presentation by Eugene Harrah, president of the Church League, and the Act of Dedication by members of the congregation. There will be the recognition of certain other gifts which have been made, including pews, a Lectern Bible, and the Book of Remembrance. At the conclusion of the program there will be an informal reception in the Garden Room, arranged by the Gifts and Memorials Committee, of which Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Broadus are chairmen.

The pipe organ was installed last summer by Paul Schoenstein following its rebuilding and enlarging after being taken from The Abbey, the studio of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Carruth in Oakland. It was originally built by Henry Pilcher and Sons in Louisville, Kentucky, and was played by many eminent European and American organists including Edwin Lemare, Marcel Dupre, Flor Peeters, Virgin Fox, Alexander McCurdy, and Richard Purvis. More recently it has been played by Ludwig Altman for the Bach Festival organ recitals, and will be played by him again this July.

The organ fund was established in July of 1954 by a primary gift from Mrs. Grace C. Howden in memory of Dr. James E. Crowther, minister of the Church of the Wayfarer from 1940 until 1947. Since that time scores of members and friends of the church have contributed to the fund to make the organ possible. It now has eleven ranks of pipes which number 603.

The public is invited to the program of dedication on Sunday and to the reception which follows.

DRURY ANNOUNCES BIG SUR CAMPING LIMITS

Kiwanis To Sponsor Kids' Amateur Show

Carmel Kiwanis Club is inviting all young people in the county between the ages of six to 18 to compete in an Amateur Show. First prize will be $100 to be used as a scholarship to a school of the winner's choice or to be kept in trust until the winner wishes to enter college, or use the money for some other worthwhile project.

Second prize will be a $25 Savings Bond. Lesser prizes will be awarded by merchants of the city from which a winner comes.

Dates for semi-final auditions will be May 26, June 2, and June 9 at the Monterey USO at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Six winners will be chosen from each semi-final to enter the final show on June 15 in Sunset School. Entertainers are eligible if they have not received more than $100 for entertaining during any one calendar year. An entry fee of $1.00 will be charged for each act.

Each contestant must be accompanied by a parent or other responsible adult, and will be responsible for equipment such as records, sheet music, etc. An accompanist will be furnished for those so desiring.

Each act will be judged on five points: talent, showmanship, originality, appearance and audience response.

Children of service personnel are especially invited to compete. Additional information may be obtained by writing Carmel Amateur Show, Box 1213, Carmel.

for the time restriction: there aren't enough state parks to go around, a reminder of the serious need of setting aside more land for recreation use, C. Edward Graves, Pine Cone conservation columnist points out.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian Catherin Drinker Bowen has two great biographies to her credit. Yankee from Olympus was the title of her story of the life of Justice Holmes and his family. Her other biography was called John Adams and the American Revolution. Now she has a third book in the same field, this one entitled The Lion and the Throne; the Life and Times of Sir Edward Coke. This is not only the life story of one of England's great statesmen, but it is also a rousing picture of the times, that of Elizabeth and the Stuart James.

Residents of Carmel a way, way back may recall the time spent here in 1918 and 1919 by America's man of letters, Van Wyck Brooks*. He has been writing a series of books about his gentle remembering and the latest of these covers the nineteen-twenties and is called Days of the Phoenix. It may be that he lived here for longer than those two years, certain it is that he was married while living here and spent his honeymoon in Yosemite. Now in his seventies, his books give insight into the lives and opinions of many literary personalities over the years.

Another literary personality of these times is represented in our new books of the week, that of Jean Cocteau. This writer-artist-actor has recently published his Journals of Jean Cocteau, illustrated by himself, and translated from the French by Wallace Fowle.

In Topeka, Kansas, there is a famous clinic, specializing in treatment for the mentally ill, the Menninger Clinic. It seems that the first Dr. Menninger visited the Mayo Clinic in 1908, and when he returned to his home he told his two sons who were intending to become doctors, that they, too, would form a clinic upon the principles of the now famous clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. Walker Winslow has written the book about the history of the clinic and the men who founded it, and his book is called The Menninger Story. He stayed at the Highlands while writing first chapters of this book.

The title of another new book sounds like a fairy story, but just might prove to be a real life possibility. Written by Bea Donville, the book, is called Dress Well on $1.00 a Day. By dividing wardrobe needs into two classifications, namely the items you must buy each year and those you need to purchase every two years, the author outlines a budget which comes well within the dollar a day limit. The book is interesting reading whether or not you are budget minded.

If you are making your living by free-lance writing, it may be you will never need to follow a dollar a day clothes budget, because our next books tells you how to make an ample salary in your chosen profession. It is called How to Make $18,000 a Year From Free-Lance Writing, and was written by Larston Farrar, who may or may not be earning annual income of $18,000. Come and get it, and then start struggling with your income tax returns.

There are several new novels for next week, including one mystery story for the avid ones. The list will be posted on the bulletin board. Next week we can tell you all about our summer reading program. If the prospect of your children's summer vacation moves you to tears, just wait. This summer reading program will keep them busy and happy.

*Ed. Note: Van Wyck Brooks has been here since then. He spent a year here in the 1940's.

Carmelites Praised At Writers' Assembly

Carmel influence glowed through the proceedings of the May 6-8 national writers' assembly in New York, the first ever held by the Authors' League in its forty-five years' history. At the opening luncheon Moss Hart, president, credited the founders of the organization with having improved the copyright laws and the condition of writers generally. He praised, among others, Jesse Lynch Williams, Lincoln Steffens, and Bert Heron's cousin, Percy MacKaye. John Gunther (a relative of the Schoeningers) conducted the panel at which Michael Drury, a Stanford girl; spoke; and at another panel Theodore White, author of The Stilwell Papers, made his own contribution. Jessamyn West, when erroneously introduced as a Midwest woman, insisted she was from California.

Nearly five hundred writers from across the country, attended, including Glenn Clairmonte, former Carmelite, now a resident of New York City. The late James Hopper of Carmel was twice president of the Authors' Guild of the Authors' League of America.

POSTPONED BARBECUE

The Democratic barbecue which was to have been held last week will be held this Sunday from 11:00-5:00 o'clock at the Swiss Riflemen's grounds, south of Gonzales. Alan Cranston, president of the Council of Democratic Clubs, will be the speaker. Tickets may be obtained from Patricia Lane, MA 4-6471.

Nielsens Off to Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nielsen are on a month's vacation which will take them to Columbia, Missouri, to attend the graduation of their eldest daughter Connie, from Stephens College on May 28.

On the way to Missouri Gwen and Walter stopped in Le Grande, Oregon, where Gwen was born and are continuing East through Yellowstone National Park, and the Black Hills of South Dakota to St. Louis, Missouri, where they plan to visit the Reverend Alfred Secombe, former rector of All Saints' Church, and Mrs. Secombe.

After seeing Connie receive her Associate in Arts degree, they will drive back with her by a route as yet not definitely decided and arrive in Carmel about June 5, in time to be present at Penny Nielsen's graduation from the eighth grade at Sunset School.

Connie majored in airline traffic at Stephens and plans to be an airline stewardess. She was a member of the Aviation Club; served on the Judicial Council of her residence; and has worked with children at the Missouri State School for the Deaf, through the Burrall Community Service Project, voluntary program at the College. She was also a Senior Pal.

Loma Prieta's Spring Party

Some eighty members of the Loma Prieta Chapter of the Sierra Club and their friends held their annual spring party last Saturday night at Asilomar. Following a dinner, club member C. Edward Graves of Carmel, Western representative of the National Parks Association, showed colored pictures he had taken on a recent tour of some of the western national parks and forests. He emphasized the need for constant vigilance on the part of conservationists to save these scenic areas from ruinous exploitation by commercial interests. An evening of square, folk and other dances followed the talk.

A projected tour of Pt. Lobos earlier in the afternoon was rained out, but Bill Coleman, park ranger and club member, who was to have led the walk, entertained a small group at his home on Rat Hill instead. Fremont Bathhouse of Carmel led a group of fifty on a Sunday morning hike to the high point of the hills just above the Carmel Highlands, where lunch was enjoyed under the redwoods during a passing shower.

Frank DeAmaral says he was not the "unexcelled" cook for the last roundup on Rancho San Carlos Sunday afternoon as announced in last week's Pine Cone. ## Get Their Dream Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Stone dreamed about owning a ranch when they retired, and their dream has come true. They now live in Carmel Valley on Rancho El Sueno (the dream) where they raise purebred Suffolk sheep for breeding purposes.

Mr. Stone has recently retired after 37 years with the Golden State Company, the last ten years spent as manager of the company's Salinas plant.

On May 11 he was guest of honor at a retirement dinner in Capitola attended by 300 friends and co-workers. A leatherbound volume was presented to him on this occasion. The book was filled with stories, anecdotes and photographs of his career in the dairy business. Colored slides made from items in the book were shown to the guests, many of whom shared Mr. Stone's memories dating back to 1920.

An engraved watch was presented to him from the company and his co-workers gave him a palomino horse and silver-trimmed saddle and bridle.

"We both like to ride," says Mr. Stone's wife, Georgia, "and now we are looking for another palomino for me to ride."

KNAPSACKERS TO CAMP OVERNIGHT IN LOST VALLEY

Local Sierra Club knapsackers are reminded that the Loma Prieta Chapter of the club has scheduled a trip into the heart of the Santa Lucia Mountains, with an overnight camp in Lost Valley, near the head of the Arroyo Seco. The hikers will meet the leader at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning, May 25, at Escondido Forest Service Camp for an eight mile walk to the valley. The parking place for the cars may be reached either from the north by way of the Arroyo Seco Ranger Station or by an easier but longer route from the south through Jolon Valley. As both of these approaches are dirt mountain roads which are impassable after storms, local inquiry as to their condition should be made before attempting them. Campers should also obtain U. S. Forest Service fire permits. Since this trip involves hiking with full packs over steep mountain trails, only experienced knapsackers should attempt the overnight hike to the valley.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

The spiritual basis of true grace and beauty will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" include the following from Psalms (90:16, 17): "Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (247:19-24): "Comeliness and grace are independent of matter. Being possesses its qualities before they are perceived humanly. Beauty is a thing of life, which dwells forever in the eternal mind and reflects the charms of His goodness in expression, form, outline, and color."

Realtors, Motelmén Ask School Board To Delay Action On J.C. District

Carmel's participating in a peninsula junior college district, there has been a gradual development of resistance and uneasiness among individual citizens.

"Even if I favored our getting into the junior college district, I wouldn't want to see us get in this way. Three people on the school board can commit the whole Carmel district to paying taxes for something they haven't a chance to vote down."

"Why doesn't the board hold an advisory question election in our own district to find out what we want to do? We're the ones who will have to pay for it. We should have some say."

"Why doesn't the board appoint a citizens committee of three to dig up some facts about what it is going to cost us, like the citizens' committee on the bond election?"

Carmel School District now pays tuition for the young people of this district who attend Monterey Junior College. A proposed bill in the State Legislature would increase the tuition from $150 per pupil to $300 per pupil. The bill has not yet been passed. Under the new bill, Carmel's cost of sending its students to Monterey Junior College on tuition would be 39 cents on the $100 valuation tax. (Calvin Cope's projection of possible enrollment next year) or 43 cents (League of Women Voters' figures obtained from a projection made at the office of the county school superintendent.)

Conservative figures as to first year costs of Carmel's joining a Junior College District, 50 cents; more pessimistic figure, 75 cents. The truth probably lies somewhere between. In view of this statistical confusion, tax payers are justified in asking for a competent impartial analysis of what the costs will be: to continue on a tuition basis vs. joining the junior college district.

There is no need for haste. Neither the students nor the tax payers of the district lose by continuing on the tuition basis until we know what bill will finally pass in the legislature, what it will mean to us tax wise and where the University of California plans to locate its branch college.

Planning Board Dumps Orange Zone, Parking

possible buffer zone only considered placing it in the business zones. Campbell seemed to feel that the Planning Commission change of "no definite establishment of transitional zones or uses" still left the concept of an orange zone which might infringe into the residence zone.

Campbell also chided the Planning Commission for not considering "the overwhelming disapproval" of the Plan shown at public hearings and their seeming disregard of petitions against the Plan. The people, "had a right to be against certain portions of the Plan," he ended.

The Plan now goes to the City Council on June 5. The Council will hold a public hearing on the Plan at a future date. The council cannot change the Plan but they can accept or reject it. If they wish changes made to the Plan after the public hearing the council will send the Plan back to the Planning Commission with the Council's recommended changes. Only the Commission has power to change the Plan. Only the Council can make it law. Only the Council can reject it.

SCHOOL TO RECEIVE $15,489

Carmel Unified School District is receiving $15,489 for Federally connected children attending Carmel Schools this year, an increase of $5,000 over last year, according to Superintendent Stuart Mitchell. Notice of the grant came from the National Office of Education through Senator William F. Knowland.

SYMPHONY FOR FUN

City Council Adopts New License Ord. Mayor Votes No

in effect $10.00 per room, license fee for those who tent rooms in the residence district.

Councilman Carl O. Patnude agreed: "And nobody has built a building out of place in Carmel but the motel," but he also agreed with Councilman Francis Whitaker, when the latter reminded the council that time is running out; that the present ordinance will increase revenue 30 percent, that if there are inequities, they can be adjusted after the ordinance has had a year of trial, but if the council doesn't act so that the ordinance can become effective before July 1, the city will lose the increased revenue, which would have to be made up in property tax. "If we don't get this done, there will be a seven cent tax on property," he concluded.

Harry G. Lachmund spoke from the audience for higher business license fees. He said that the population increase since 1950 (4351-4398) is negligible but the cost of government in the same period has doubled, $114,000-$261,000. It is business that has made these increased demands for services.

Councilman Patnude said that through the sales tax the "outsider" helps pay the cost of city service. "State sales tax average is $10 per capita; ours is $23 per capita."

Mr. Lachmund countered with: "The resident pays part of the sales tax," adding that the home owner pays the greater share of the property tax, also. The assessed valuation of Carmel is broken down to three million for business property; 10 million for residence property. The residence district $100,000 taxes; the business section $30,000.

William C. Culver, also spoke in the interest of the residents vs. tourists. "They create a problem (the tourists.) They gave Carmel the reputation of Hell Week at Easter."

When the city hall clock had worked itself around to 11:40, Councilman Whitaker moved that the ordinance be read for a second time by title only. This passed unanimously. When he moved the adoption of the ordinance, Councilmen Jim Buffington, Whitaker and Patnude voted yes. Mayor Horace Lyon voted no.

The ordinance becomes effective immediately. It will have legal publication in the next issue of the Pine Cone.
